

SOLICITATION MANAGEMENT TOOLS

Provide Transparency, Decrease Time to Award, and Reduce Risk of Vendor Protest!

Agencies are subjected to many challenges when preparing for an acquisition. Ensuring compliance with federal regulations, organizing required documentation, and defending against potential protests are all probable risks that keep contract professionals up at night. Noblis solicitation management tools provide the added structure and discipline required to adhere to regulations, facilitate process, document results, and prevent vendor protests.

Q&A MANAGEMENT

Organizes questions received from industry, facilitates workflow to develop answers, and flags items that require changes to the RFP, bid model, or evaluation criteria.

TECHNICAL DATA REPOSITORY

Facilitates the secure exchange between government and industry of large supporting data. Assists the government to gauge the market interest level for the solicitation.

VENDOR PROPOSAL SUBMISSION PORTAL

Equips the government with a portal designed for complex acquisitions with high volume CLINs or pricing elements. Errors and submission rounds are reduced through a structured submission process to facilitate vendor compliance for delivering proposal and pricing materials.

SOURCE SELECTION EVALUATION

Provides the government a structured online environment customized to each evaluation for conducting the source selection. Organizes data to facilitate a defensible award decision.

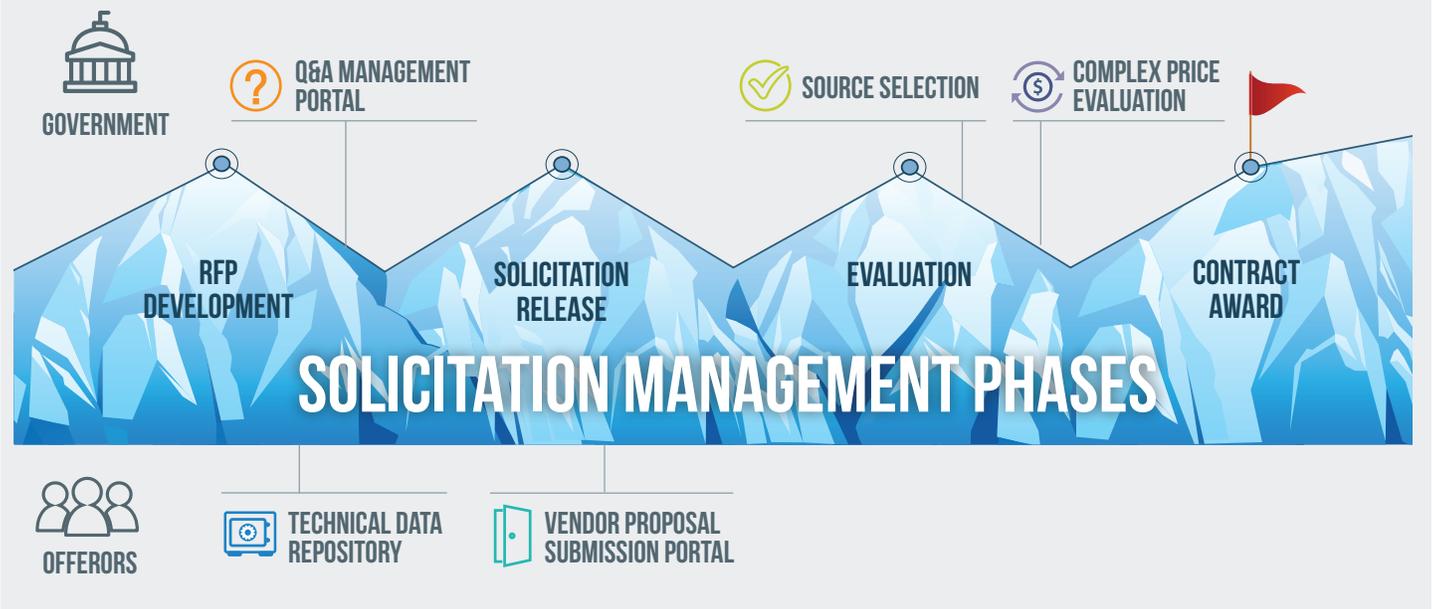

COMPLEX PRICE EVALUATION

Enables price analysts conducting fair and reasonable determinations of vendor pricing to make sound decisions through automation and error checking capabilities. Used in conjunction with the Vendor Proposal Submission Portal.

More than $400 billion in federal acquisitions have successfully used Noblis tools and services. Over 99% were accomplished without a sustained vendor protest.

CLIENT SUCCESS STORIES

PROVIDING TOOLS AND SERVICES FOR A SUCCESSFUL, PROTEST-FREE $4.3B DOD CONTRACT

The DoD was challenged to conduct a high-profile source selection for an integrated solution to manage healthcare records across multiple agencies, facilities and environments. The DoD turned to Noblis for solicitation management tools and services to successfully award the $4.3B contract, an amount well under the $11B Independent Government Cost Estimate (IGCE). Noblis Solicitation Management tools created strong debriefs, resulting in a successful contract award—without a filed protest!

GUIDING GSA AND CREATING A FLEXIBLE, FUTURE-PROOF TELECOMMUNICATIONS CONTRACT

How does a large, complex, multi-award telecommunications contract designed for use across the federal government get awarded? GSA had the challenge of structuring a flexible telecommunications contract to provide agencies the ability to consolidate many disparate contracts, save time, reduce cost, and acquire emerging technologies. The $50B EIS contract was successfully awarded after navigating through a pre-award and post-vendor protest. Thanks to the data and structure provided by Noblis Solicitation Management tools, ten vendors were successfully awarded GSA EIS contracts.
